VAL2022

The full answer!

September 11, 2022 is the Swedish general election day. On this day we decide how Sweden is to be developed over the next four years.

Of course, Livs will not go to the polls, we are not a political party, but politics affects both working and social conditions. That is why we, as a union, are transparent about what we want and find important.

Ordinary people are the ones who know what the social problems are – the ones who have the full answer. That is why it is so important that those who can, vote in the election.*

Together with the other unions in The Swedish Trade Union Confederation (LO), Livs consider some areas to be extra important. Those are secure jobs, a strengthened welfare system, reduced social gaps, sustainable labor migration and security from crime.

Social problems are often complex and need to be solved in several stages, with several answers. That is why we demand:

- More jobs
- Getting rid of insecure jobs
- Strengthening the role of the workplace safety representative
- Preparing Sweden for a sustainable future
- Increased welfare
- Reinforcing health and social care
- Statutory right to childcare during inconvenient working hours
- Reduced social gaps
- Tougher action against crime
- A tax system that reduces income gaps

On the website Hela svaret we explain further what we find important.
